Mark Fairweather-Tall, Regional Minister Team Leader

Introducing South Wales Baptist Association (SWBA)

SWBA is one of thirteen Associations working across the Baptist Union of Great Britain. We serve over 125 churches and missional communities throughout the region.

Our purpose is to walk alongside all with whom we are in partnership, encouraging and enabling each to grow in their ability to be a healthy expression of God's Kingdom.

"We are confident that God is raising up the right person to share in our vision and values in order to further develop our work in serving the churches in South Wales."

Our Values...

We consider the way we do things to be of paramount importance. Therefore, we are committed to intentionally display our values in all that we do.

Passionate for mission

God is at work on earth, and it is our incredible privilege to be a part of this work as we seek to see lives and communities transformed by the gospel.

Innovative and visionary

God is Creator and always doing new things. We want to be willing to take risks, to step out in faith and move beyond the familiar way of doing things.

Generous and relational

God has demonstrated His willingness to give however great the cost. We seek to work fruitfully with others as we share ideas and resources. God is love and everyone is special to Him. We aim to see others through God's eyes.

Committed to justice

We experience a 'holy discontent' that leads us to work towards Kingdom values. This includes confronting evil, challenging injustice, and valuing the whole of creation.

Our Vision...

In 2020, the Regional Team and Trustees met together to discern our vision for the future. Each year it is the responsibility of the Regional Team to devise the strategy to help this vision become reality.

Relationship – We want people to value Association Life and being a part of the Baptist family. We will seek to offer opportunities for positive and inspiring interaction. Our aim is for each church or minister to have at least one personal interaction with the RM team each year.

Well-being – We recognise well-being affects those inside and outside of church. We want churches to be a place where people can go to be restored and refreshed. We want ministers and churches to experience the Association as a place of listening, encouraging, and guiding when calling out for help or support.

Missional Focus – We seek to encourage and inspire churches and ministers to engage in relevant, creative mission in their communities. Our aim is that many of our churches will be involved in pioneering as an expression of God's Kingdom resulting in making healthy disciples.

Children's, Youth and Families – Develop a network of paid and volunteer CYF workers who can encourage one another and feel valued in all they do. We aim to resource and equip CYF workers in effective, creative, and innovative ways.

Continued Ministry Development – To promote and provide opportunities for an increasing number of accredited and non-accredited ministers to engage with practices that support the development of their ministry.

Our Team...

He studied at Regents Park College, Oxford. Prior to that he taught Economics and Business Studies for three years.

Revd Naomi Dickerson

Naomi works for SWBA three days a week, helping churches develop Renew Wellbeing spaces. She has a real heart for people and helping them explore faith and discipleship. She considers it a privilege to be allowed to walk alongside others at times of great highs, lows and everything in between.

She gives churches advice and assistance on any safeguarding matter, which might include safeguarding concerns, safe recruitment advice, help with safeguarding policies and procedures and advice on DBS checks.

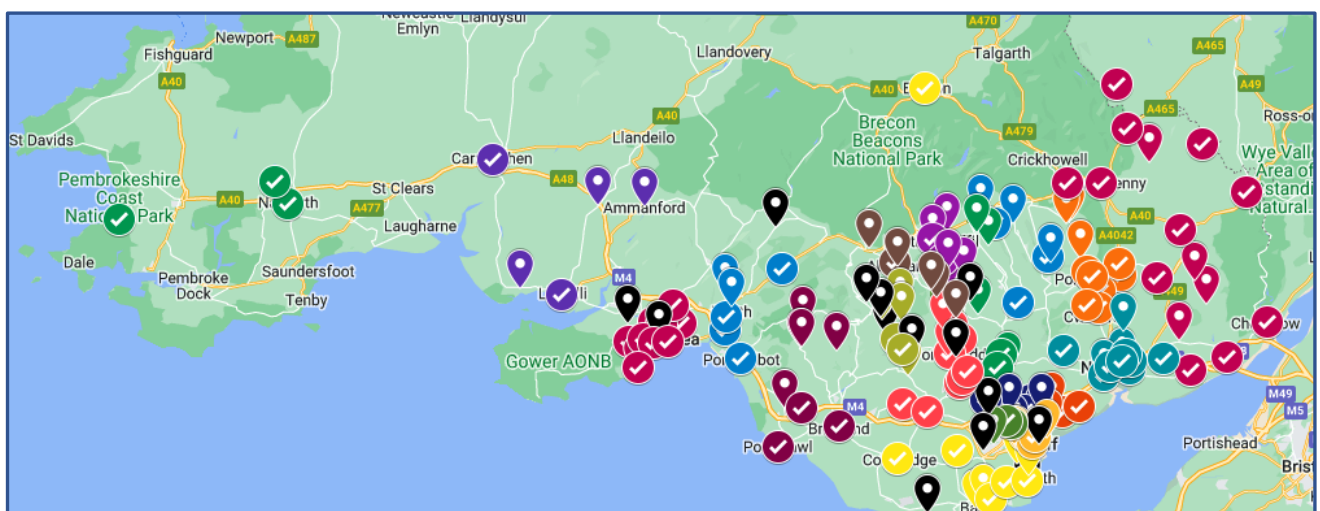

Ministry in South Wales...

SWBA churches stretch along the M4 corridor and into West Wales. From Chepstow in the east, through to Broad Haven in the west, the Association encompasses the cities of Newport, Cardiff and Swansea. Many other churches are located in valley communities and rural Monmouthshire. Brecon is the location of our most northerly church, with Barry being the most southerly.

South Wales has many beautiful locations; from hills and mountains to stunning coastal areas with beautiful beaches; from majestic castles to the Big Pit National Coal Museum, there is much of interest to explore.

Wales is a devolved nation with its own parliament, the Senedd, located in Cardiff Bay. Education and healthcare are two examples of areas where the Welsh Assembly has power to make its own decisions.

Continued...

Baptists Together are not the only Baptists in Wales. The Baptist Union of Wales is made up of two wings – a Welsh-speaking wing and an English-speaking wing.

We work in close collaboration in a number of different ways, including: holding a joint Minister's Conference; an annual event for churches' called 'Momentum'; combining our Newly Accredited Ministers programme. We value our partnership highly.

There are also several other Baptist churches in the region who are not affiliated with either BUGB or BUW.

Wales is a bi-lingual nation, and you will meet Welsh language speakers in the role. SWBA churches are English speaking and so being able to speak Welsh is not an essential requirement of the role.

We also value our strong links and friendship with Cardiff Baptist College. It is a privilege to work closely in a variety of ways.

We have an Association Office located within the college and this is a great base for us to work from and fosters our close working relationship with CBC.
